

Community Healthcare Services is a Minnesota 501c3 non-profit.

Seniors age 65 and above.

We have implemented new healthcare services at no cost to seniors to address the issues created by Covid-19 coronavirus concerns in our Community

Now that seniors are being encouraged to stay at home and even avoid their regular doctor's office in non-emergency situations, Community Healthcare Services has temporarily modified our regular programs to help seniors address health concerns as a result of the Coronavirus pandemic. This will also help to reduce the burden currently being placed on care providers throughout our community.

We have increased our clinical staff and tele-health capabilities to provide additional assistance at no cost to seniors aged 65 and older. These additional services are being implemented to immediately assist seniors to:

- ✓ Address concerns, answer questions, provide disease specific education
- ✓ Inform and direct needed services through current community resources
- ✓ Monitor health and current care needs
- ✓ Get assistance to stay on track with treatment plans and health goals
- ✓ Keep up to date with preventive services
- ✓ Address ongoing chronic conditions to help avoid crisis care episodes
- ✓ Smoothly transition back to the care of their primary care providers once this crisis abates

We are also engaged with other non-profit and local businesses to supply basic staples such as food, medicine, medical supplies and hygiene products to be delivered to seniors at their homes, at no cost.
